

karanovic/partners

tech talks

technology supporting humans

Until 2020, most people spoke about technology as a disruption, feared that the AI will take our jobs and that digital communication will alienate us. In 2020 technology saved us – it saved our health, jobs and sanity by enabling us to work from home and stay in contact with our family, friends and colleagues.

As tomorrow will bring many changes in the way our clients work and the way we work, we have tech talks – a programme of trainings, presentations and workshops where we learn and share knowledge about some of the existing and future technologies.

And we are not just talking about technology, we are using it. By being up to date with all the latest developments, we are in a position to understand and choose the technology that is right for us and our clients, that augments our intelligence and efficiency and allows our humanity to take centre stage.