

karanovic/partners

k/how

from Partners with love

Knowledge sharing is what really makes a difference— it shaped us in what we are today and it's crucial for our future.

As we grow as a team we are constantly striving to share our insights in most efficient ways – through trainings, e-Academy, guidelines on our Intranet page, k/ompas - our knowledge data-base, regular meetings and consultations.

k/how is envisaged as a platform through which our partners will tell us more about their experience and approach, mistakes they made and lessons they learned. It should serve only as a conversation starter – if you have more questions, feedback, ideas, do not hesitate to get in touch with partners, initiate meetings with your colleagues, ask questions and share your thoughts. What we want is to learn from each other and build our knowledge together.

